

What is the scientific study of fossils called?

a) Geology

b) Paleontology

- c) Archeology
- d) Histology

Fossils are the remains, impressions, or traces of an animal or a plant of a past geological age that has been preserved in Earth's crust. Paleontologists are the scientists who study fossils.