

Which country has the largest number of tigers in the world?

Which country has the largest number of tigers in the world?

a) South Africa

b) India

c) Kenya

d) Bangladesh

India is home to about 3000 tigers, which is about 75% of total population of tigers in the world. India state Madhya Pradesh has 526 tigers, making it the state having highest number of population in India.