

Who discovered penicillin in 1928?

Who discovered penicillin in 1928?

- a) Grahm Bell
- b) Rontgen
- c) Isaac Newton

d) Alexander Fleming

Scottish scientists Alexander Fleming discovered penicillin in 1928 during working at St. Marry's Hospital, London. This discovery is considered as a huge development towards modern science. Penicillin is Penicillium moulds and its first use was against bacterial infections.